More 'Desperate Conditions'

Another indication of how the "poor farmers" of Stony Plain District are making it go at the present time is shown by the fact that on Thursday of last week Zucht and Wood bought and shipped 166 hogs; Meredith Bros. bought and shipped over 80 hogs. These, along with some four truck loads of hogs which Mr. William Gilbert brought straight to the Stockyards from the farmers' own hog pens during the week, makes a shipment of over 270 hogs sent from Stony in six days.

This must have meant a fairly large amount of real money to our farmers, as, altho the merchant parts with his goods on six months' time, as a rule the farmer insists on cash for his hogs, or finds out the reason.

Mr. B. G. Powell, a prominent farmer who lives about seven miles from town, took in ten hogs to the Edmonton Stockyards by the Gilbert Express on Friday last. Of these ten, five went select, the other five got the premium of ten per cent. The total net receipts to this farmer, after all expenses were paid, amounted to $173.48.

Feeding your grain to hogs still pays--providing a farmer knows how to raise the hogs.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank the Athletic Club, also the people of Stony Plain and vicinity for the honor shown me, in electing me their Princess for the Edmonton Winter Carnival.

VERA EATON.

The Lucky Nimrods.

Not all the big game got away this season--Mr. Theo. Nayard, the Carvel hunter, secured a bull moose and a deer. Histrober also secured a deer; while Mr. Bert L. Simpson of Ingo, secured a bull moose while hunting across the river. The following hunters who live at Headwaters, each secured a buck deer: Sam White, John White, and Sam White. W. H. Hubbel also secured a buck deer; while "Ward" Seamon reports the capture of two Mudpots and a Waupac.

The Carnival Event.

Stony Plain was well represented at most of the performances at Edmonton's big Winter Carnival last week, Wednesday night seeing by far the larger number present, with delegations attending each successive performance. Stony Plain's Princess attracted a deal of attention, and was greatly admired for her winsome ways and beauty of grace. The Carnival Committee left nothing undone to make its guests feel at home while in the City, and the hospitality was lavish.

Those local public-spirited citizens who undertook to look after the town's interests in the affair are worthy of great praise for the manner in which they acquitted themselves.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to those loyal citizens of Stony Plain and District, for the honor done our daughter, Miss Vera, in electing her to represent Stony Plain as the Princess, at the big Winter Carnival at the Capital City of Alberta, last week.

(Signed)

MR. AND MRS. EATON AND FAMILY.

LOCAL NEWS.

Mr. F. C. Barry, who was down from Edmonton for a few days, returned to that town Tuesday evening.

Messrs. Umbach and Bishop are leaving next week for Lake Athabasca, to build boats.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Giebelhaus made a business trip to the City on Monday.

Mr. Mea, and the Misses McKinley attended the Edmonton Carnival on Saturday.

Her many friends will regret to learn Miss Marjorie Anderson is suffering from an attack of pneumonia.

C. Hadley, Sign, was in town on Monday.

Miss R. Wolf has accepted a position as stenographer in the Canadian National offices, Edmonton.

Mr. Wm. Gilbert leaves Saturday for Toronto, to be present at the convention of the Holstein Breeders' Association, as Alberta's representative.

Mr. Geo. Broadbent left Saturday to accept a position at Kamloops, on the Mountain Park branch.

Sunday's train from Vancouver was two hours late.

The present Council of Stony Plain town meets for the last time tonight.

Sunnybrook Farm last week made a shipment of 400 pickered swine to a breeder at Ingo.

Grain is coming in a little more freely to the local elevators, and there is said to be a slight increase in the local flow of the grain of the realm.

A dance will be held in Duke Olky's Hall tomorrow evening.

Services in Methodist Church will be as follows--Services 11 a.m.; Sunday School at 12 a.m. Every body welcome.

Stormy weather prevented any hockey games the beginning of the week, but the local puck chasers are getting ready for the big game on the 4th.

Those farmers seeking good seed oats or wheat should read the advt. of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, printed on page eight.

U. F. A. Local will hold its regular meeting on Saturday next. Among other matters discussed will be the proposition to hold a box social and chaper in the near future.

Dan Brox held a sale for Val Senger on Monday last, and fairly good prices were obtained for what was offered. The good winter, so far, is having a slight effect on the price of cattle, as the scare of the lack of feed is beginning to vanish.

Owing to the pressure on our columns, the Card of Thanks from the President of the Athletic Association is crowded out of this week's issue.

Remove Immigration Restrictions

The second session of Parliament under the administration of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King is on the eve of opening. It has been forecasted as a lengthy session with many important subjects to receive consideration, including Canada's relations to the Empire and foreign affairs, revision of the Bank Act, grain marketing, trade treaties, a Redistribution Bill, railway policy, immigration, development of natural resources, export trade, etc.

Admittedly these are big and vital questions, but to the close study of present-day conditions and problems in Canada and the world the outstanding question among those enumerated is undoubtedly that of immigration. The present Immigration Act is the product of the war and after war conditions. It is obsolete. Canada's true interests demand that it be scrapped, wiped off the Statute books entirely, and replaced by a new, well considered Act based on present-day needs and requirements.

The present Immigration Act, and the Orders-in-Council thereunder, are repressive and restrictive in the extreme. They have operated and are today operating to practically prohibit and kill all immigration to this Dominion when, as a matter of universal admitted fact, this country stands in need of immigration to an ever greater extent than at any time in all its past history. The debt created by the war, and the enormous deficits on the National railways, imperatively demand a large increase in population in order that our natural resources may be developed for use, and our export trade expanded, and thus bring to this country that prosperity and wealth through which alone will it be possible to pay off our war debt and make our railways a national asset instead of a heavy national liability.

Organized labor favors the immigration of farmers and agricultural workers, but opposes the entry of common laborers, artisans and workers of all other classes. Yet the farmer has need of the services of common laborers to build roads, and to work in the fields. But how can the farmer successfully bid for the services of such needed help in the carrying on of his operations against the railways and other corporations where the labor unions dictate minimum hours of employment and maximum rates of wage? What laborer is going to accept the long hours on the farm and the wages which a farmer can afford to pay in the light of the returns received for his products rather than the short hours and much higher wages dictated by labor unions for employment in cities and towns and by railways and other corporations?

The disparity between the returns by the farmer as a result of long hours and unremunerating labor, and those received by organized labor, is already so great that the agricultural industry of Canada is today in jeopardy. High labor costs in the cities have boosted the costs of almost everything the farmer must buy to such a point that the buying power of the farm has largely disappeared. The wholesaler, the manufacturer, the merchant is feeling this loss. The result is lessened employment in all branches of industry and trade.

The whole of Western Canada is feeling the adverse effects of this condition. Unemployment is rife, and there is hesitation on every hand in the launching of new projects, the erection of buildings, the expansion of business, or the expenditure of money in any direction. Instead, with unemployment in evidence, we have the abnormal fact of a steady increase in Bank deposits—people hoarding their money instead of putting it to productive use.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind, Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. Making a Sun-Dial For Newfoundland

Is Being Made by Toronto Professor For Use of One of Dr. Grenfell's Hospitals

Professor Louis B. Stewart, Professor of Surveying and Geodesy, University of Toronto, is working in his spare moment on a scientifically accurate sun-dial for the use of Dr. Grenfell's hospital in Newfoundland. A sun-dial, in order to be of real service, must be constructed to suit the latitude in which it is to be used and must be placed on the true meridian. In 1904 Professor Stewart was one of a party who went to Newfoundland to observe a lunar eclipse, and found at that time the exact longitude and latitude of that part of Newfoundland near which Dr. Grenfell has since located one of his hospitals. Hearing from a university student, who was investigating water power in Newfoundland this summer, that the people in charge of the hospital have no means of being sure of the correct time, Professor Stewart undertook to make the sun-dial on which he is now working.

WHEN NERVES ARE NEAR EXHAUSTION

The Right Thing to Do is to Take a Tonic for the Blood

When you become so exhausted after a day's work that you cannot sleep, or sleep fails to refresh you, it is time to look after your health. Failure to act at once means a steady strain on your nervous system, which can result in but one thing—a nervous breakdown.

Do not wait for a nervous breakdown. The treatment is simple enough if you do not let your condition become too far advanced. The treatment is one requiring an effective tonic to enrich the blood and feed the starved nerves. The most effective tonic known is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which act directly on the blood, and with proper diet have proved of the greatest benefit in nervous troubles and all conditions due to impoverished blood.

Mrs. Mary Hanson, Brantford, Ont., has proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and says:—"I was taken ill with what doctors whom I had consulted called neuralgia of the tissues of the system. I was a complete wreck. I constantly pains in my body and limbs, dizzy headaches, fainting spells and constipation. So intense was the pain that at times it caused vomiting, and I would have to go to bed for two or three days, only to get up so dizzy and so weak that I could not cross the bedroom without aid, and while these spells lasted I could keep nothing on my stomach. I doctored for almost a year, but with no beneficial results. Finally, the last doctor who attended me said medicine would not benefit me. I must have perfect rest, and spend most of my time in the open air. He gave me very poor encouragement. Knowing that the mother of four children could not spend all her time in idleness, I told my husband I was through with doctors and was going to try some other remedies. I got one, but after taking it for a month found no benefit. Then I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and at the end of two weeks I found these were what I needed. With nerves worn threadbare from all the suffering of the past, I continued the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for three months and by this time I was able to do most of my own housework. In fact I soon felt well and was able to do any kind of work without feeling tired. Since that time I have continued to do all my own work and have had no return of the dreadful pain I suffered before. I have recommended the pills in many cases and have always seen good results from their use."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CHAPTER V.
Treachery

Overjoyed at the prospect of a peaceful solution of the problem which confronted him, Wade walked rapidly toward the hotel, happy, too, in the thought of meeting Helen Rexhill.

Whether he loved her with the single-hearted devotion which a man should feel toward his future wife, he did not know; but he was confident that he did not love any one else. The idea of love in connection with Dorothy had never occurred to him; she was his good friend, nothing more. To Helen, belonged the romance of his life, fostered in other years by the distinct preference she had shown for him. At one time, they had been reported engaged, and although the word had never actually passed between them, many things more significant than speech had contributed to the warm regard which they felt for each other. Beneath Helen's reputed coldness of heart lay intense feeling, and on numerous occasions she had verged on unworldliness in hating her moods to Wade, in a way that many other men would have been quicker to fathom, and perhaps to take advantage of, than he had been.

Now, the knowledge that she was close at hand, and that he might see her at any moment, caused his heart to beat rapidly. If to others she had been cool, to him she had been ardent, and this warmth had been the one thing needful to him, for she had captivated. Only when some vital case impends is a young man likely to distinguish between the impulses of his body and the cravings of his soul, and no such vital exigency had as yet appeared in Wade's life. He wondered if she was as beautiful as ever, and began to reproach himself for lack of order in his recent letters to her, lest he should now be repaid in kind. He wanted to be received upon the old, delicious footing, with her in his arms, and her lips trembling beneath his.

There were dozens of men in Washington and New York who would almost have bartered their souls for such privilege, and Gordon Wade need not be deterred for his moment of passionate yearning. He was enough of

Don't Neglect Your Skin

Ladies—A few days' treatment with CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS will do more to clean up the skin than all the beauty treatments to be had.

When he inquired at the hotel, he was told that the Rexhills were in, and he presently found himself shaking hands with the Senator, who greeted him with effusive warmth. "Helen is changing her gown and will be in shortly," the big man exclaimed. "I'm mighty glad to see you, Gordon. Only this morning we were talking of looking you up. How are you? Sit down, my boy, sit down!"

"Senator," Wade began, after they had exchanged compliments for a few moments. "Glad as I am to see you on my account, I am more than glad in behalf of my friends, who have not yet had the pleasure of meeting you. Your arrival in Crawling Water could not possibly have been more opportune. You have come just in time to save us most likely, from an internecine strife which might have ruined us all. I was more glad to see you than to learn that you were here."

"Indeed, Gordon? I—I am much interested. Perhaps, you will tell me."

While Wade succinctly sketched the situation, the Senator nervously toyed with his eye-glasses, now and then lifting his double chin from the confinement of his collar, only to let the mass of flesh settle again into inertness. He thought upon Moran had not divulged the fact that the Senator, was concerned in the Crawling Water enterprise. Certainly, Moran had done very well in that, and Rexhill almost wished now that he had been less prodigal in coming to Crawling Water. If he had stayed in the East, his complicity in the affair might possibly have been concealed to the very end. He hastily considered the advisability of remaining under cover; but now that he was on the ground he decided that he had better be open and above board. In so far at least as he could be so, it would prove awkward in the event of subsequent investigation, if he should be even suspected in the guise of a deliberate conspirator.

So, presently, as Wade neared the end of his recital of the situation, Rexhill permitted an oleaginous smile to overspread his countenance. At the least, he even chuckled. "It's really a bit amusing. No, no, not what you have said, my boy; but what I am about to say to you. You invoke my influence to stop them—er—depredations, as you call them, and to a certain point, you shall have my aid, because I seem to see that matters have gone a bit beyond bounds. But when you ask me to go to extremes myself, why, I'm bound to tell you that I, too, have interests at stake. Why do you suppose I came to Crawling Water?"

"I'll admit that puzzled me," Rexhill looked keenly at Wade, wondering if he were foolish enough to believe the trip a sentimental journey, purely. He concluded that the young ranchman had too much sense to jump at such a conclusion.

"Well, the reason is," the Senator leaned pompously forward, twiddling his glasses upon his thumb. "The reason is that I, if you please, am the moving spirit behind the company which Race Moran is representing here. You see—"

"That's all right," Wade interrupted. "You may call it again at Wade's start of surprise. 'It really is a bit amusing.'"

"In a sense, yes," the Senator said. "Well, I'll be damned!" The cat-tleman's tone was rich in disgust, but even more keen was his intense disappointment at this failure of his hopes. "Would you mind telling me, Senator, just what the purpose of your company is?"

"Certainly not. It's no secret," Rexhill replied briskly. "Certain parties back East, myself included, are told you, have reason to believe that a railroad will be put through this valley in the near future. This is an extremely rich and productive section, with natural resources which will make it heard from some day, so we are anxious to obtain a portion of the valley for speculative purposes. If the railroad comes through we'll probably build a town somewhere nearby and open up an irrigation project we have in mind. If not, we'll use the land for stock raising and livestock. The proposition is a sound investment either way you look at it."

"A few years ago," said Wade, "I and several others leased upwards of twenty thousand acres of grass land here in the valley for stock raising purposes. I personally, filed a claim on the land I now call my home ranch. Our lease, which is direct from the Government, pays us entire control of the land so long as we pay for it."

"I'm anxious to see these ranches of yours," the Senator said. "There are a number of ranches in the valley, all of them cattle and horse outfits. There are always been a few agreements that sheep should not be grazed here because sheep and cattle can't live on the same range in large numbers. The old Moran came here, we had no trouble whatever—the sheep ranchers put to their own side of the mountains and we cattle men kept to ours. Since Moran has arrived, however, the sheep have crossed the divide in large numbers, until the entire valley is being overrun with them."

"Only this morning, Moran admitted to me that the sheep men are acting with his authority and backing," Senator Rexhill, this is wrong, and your agent, or manager, is making a big mistake. Since you are the prime mover in this matter, your arrival is even more opportune than I at first thought, because you have the power to immediately correct your friend Moran's mistake. As far as the cattle ranchers can learn, Moran is bringing sheep in here with the deliberate intention of starving us out of our homes. He seems to want our range and he'll not say you—thinks that such a course is the cheapest way to gain possession. He'll find it the dearest in the end. Unless the sheep are moved mighty soon, we shall be mixed up in one of the bloodiest little wars in the history of the range country. Mark you, I'm no firebrand—some call me too conservative; but we have almost reached the limit, and something is bound to happen before many days."

"Senator Rexhill drummed with his fingers on the table. "Um," Does Moran know of this attitude in you and your friends, Gordon?"

"Yes. I have just finished telling him of it. But he merely laughs at us. We are as long as we can from the courts here, Senator, and we can't easily appeal to the authorities. We are obliged to settle our differences among ourselves. Moran knows this as well as I do; but he forgets that the thing can work two ways. Each day that the sheep are here in the valley they spoil more grass than all our cattle could eat in a week; in two months if the sheep stay, the range will be as bare as a ball-room floor. Can you wonder that we ranchers are becoming desperate?"

"It's strange," Rexhill commented, apparently much perturbed. "Moran is not the sort to take needless risks. He's dominant, but he's no fool. Well, my boy, I'll talk this over with him; in fact, I really came out here to see how things were shaping up. If things can be peacefully arranged, that's the way we want them. We're not looking for trouble. Certainly, you are right to object to sheep being run on your leased pasture. I'll look into it right away and see what can be done."

"Thank you," Wade was much relieved, and he showed it. "I felt sure that an appeal to your sense of fair play would not be fruitless. I'm mighty glad you are in town."

"Gordon!" a girl's voice exclaimed softly behind him. "Helen!" He sprang to his feet and turned to see her hands. Those who admired Helen Rexhill at Washington social functions never saw her look more lovely than she did at this moment of meeting with Wade, for the reason that all the skill of the costumer could not beautify her so much as the radiance of love now in her face. The dress she wore was far from inexpensive, but it was cut with the art which conceals art, and to Wade it appeared simple.

Yet his first sensation was one of acute disappointment, which he strove rather ineffectually, to conceal. Doubtless, this was because his recollection of her had soared beyond the bounds of human perfection. But the gown, which she had chosen with so keen a wish to impress him, reminded him of the simple frocks which Dorothy Furness wore, and Helen Rexhill's face there was not the same sweet simplicity of expression which distinguished her rival. Flaming love was there, to transform her from the suggestion of a fly to that of a pomegranate; but it was the love that demands and demands, rather than the constant affection which, in giving all, seeks nothing but the privilege of loving in return. Without actually analyzing the impression which Helen made upon him, Wade felt something of the same sort, and was disappointed in the realization of his dream of her. Materially she was too perfect, too exalted, for the setting of Crawling Water.

"Why, you look just the same," she happily exclaimed. "And I? Have I changed? Now, be careful what you say! You're not a bit of a courter."

"Everything changes, doesn't it," he said, slowly feeling his way. "Except the heart?" His answer pleased her.

"Will you listen to that, Father?" in the cattle country, too."

A Phosphorescent Lake

Situated near Nassau in the Bahamas is a wonderful lake called "Lake of Fire." It is an artificial stretch of water and was constructed as a place for keeping turtles. It is cut out of the coral rock and a narrow ditch connects it with the sea. What is most remarkable about this lake is its shining appearance due to the presence of phosphorus. The dip of an oar in the water will cause brilliant light to read large print by night. The lake is full of fish which being disturbed start, leaving a trail of fire behind them.

Things Undone
Are there things that you neglected to do in 1922 that if done would have made the year a richer one to remember? Did you lose sight of a friend whom a letter or a telephone call would have brought into your life again? Did you let slip a day in the spring when you should have kept trout with the birds and the lilacs? Were you too busy to go to a symphony concert or view the pictures in an art museum? ~ "I should like to do that sometime," we say. "I did that once!" is better thing to say.—Youth's Companion.

Progressives Continue To Plow Own Furrow Asserts Mr. Forke

Ottawa.—Robert Forke, leader of the National Progressive Party, who arrived in Ottawa to take up residence for the coming session of Parliament, had little comment to offer for publication on the statement of Hon. Robert Rogers that there were in reality only two political parties, the Conservatives and Liberals, and that the Progressives were trying to persuade the public they were a separate party.

The Progressive leader was, however, very emphatic in denying that the Progressive party was nothing else than an "illegal political faction" in the hands of the control of the United Grain Growers, as Mr. Rogers alleged. "There is no connection whatever between the National Progressive party and the Grain Growers Grain Company," Mr. Forke declared, "and I regard that charge as all rot. There was not the least foundation."

MOTHER! MOVE CHILD'S BOWELS

"California Fig Syrup" is Child's Best Laxative

"Hurry Mother! A teaspoonful of 'California Fig Syrup' now will thoroughly clean the little bowels, and in a few hours you have a well, playful child again. Even if cross, feverish, bilious, constipated or full of cold, children love its 'fruity' taste, and mothers can rest easy because it never fails to work all the souring food and nasty bile right out of the stomach and bowels without griping or upsetting the child.

Tell your druggist you want only the genuine 'California Fig Syrup' which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother, you may say 'California.' Refuse any imitation.

World's Dairy Show

MRS. ANDERSON TELLS WOMEN

How Backache and Periodic Pains Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Leslie, Sask.—"For about a year I was troubled with a distressing down-bearing pain before and during the periods, and from terrible headaches and backache. I hated to go to a doctor, and as I knew several women who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with good results, I finally bought some and took four bottles of it. I certainly do recom-mend it to every woman with troubles like mine. I feel fine now and hope to be able to keep your medicine on hand at all times, as no woman ought to be without it in the house."—Mrs. OSCAR A. ANDERSON, Box 15, Leslie, Sask.

Mrs. Kelsey Adds Her Testimony

Copenhagen, N. Y.—"I read your advertisement in the papers and my husband induced me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to get relief from pains and weakness. I was so weak that I could not walk at times. Now I can do my housework and help my husband out decent, too. I am willing for you to publish this letter if you think it will help others."—Mrs. HANNAH KELSEY, R. F. D., Copenhagen, N. Y.

Sick and ailing women everywhere in the Dominion should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before they give up hope of recovery.

W. N. U. 1467

tion in fact for the charge, Mr. Forke said, that Hon. T. A. Cramer, former Progressive leader, was to blame for the depression in the west, because he was a "willing worker for the railways at Ottawa." Mr. Forke affirmed with emphasis that Mr. Cramer had no connection with the railways. The cause of the depression in the west was the high cost of production, and the fact that overhead expenses would not balance with returns. While the crops in Western Canada last summer had been good and returns permitted the liquidation of past debts in some instances, the cost of production had been altogether out of proportion to the price of farm products.

That the National Progressive party was content to play a furrow was the opinion of Mr. Forke. He was not prepared to say whether the Progressives would co-operate to the same degree with the Government at the coming session as last session. Regarding the defection from the Progressive ranks of Messrs. W. J. Hammel, M.P. for Muskoka, and Joseph Binette, M.P. for Prescott, Mr. Forke had little to say other than to comment: "We are sorry to lose them."

MINISTER OF RAILWAYS BURIED AT WINDSOR

ENTIRE COMMUNITY PAYS LAST RESPECTS TO HON. W. C. KENNEDY

Windsor, Ont.—Attended by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Premier, and Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the Opposition, Mayor Wilson of this city, and hundreds of other statesmen and civic organizations and municipalities, the body of the late Hon. W. C. Kennedy, Minister of Railways in the Dominion Government and prominent citizen of Windsor, who died in Naples, Fla., was laid to rest here. Practically the entire community took part in the funeral. Dignities were suspended. Besides the ministers who accompanied the Prime Minister to Windsor on the special train there were present Hon. Charles Murphy, Postmaster-General, and Sir Lester Gouin, Minister of Justice.

Several Members of Parliament, and Deputy Ministers came to Windsor on the special for the funeral.

The body was conveyed from the Kennedy residence to St. Alphonsus Roman Catholic Church. Following the services the casket moved to St. Alphonsus Cemetery for the interment. The Knights of Columbus took a prominent part in the funeral.

West Needs Elevators Along Pacific Coast

Grain Growers Must Have Difficulties of Transportation Removed

Hamilton, Ont.—Speaking here Hon. G. P. Smith, of this city former Minister of Education in Alberta Government, declared that Western Canada could not have prospered unless the present difficulties of transportation and trade were removed for the western grain growers.

Mr. Smith quoted figures with the view to showing that the Dominion Government should build elevators at Vancouver and Prince Rupert and ship half of the Western grain that way.

Entirely New Treatment For Bronchitis, Catarrh

No Internal Medicine To Take

Years ago the profession fought Catarrh by internal dosing. This upset the stomach and didn't remove the trouble. The modern treatment consists of breathing the healing, soothing essence of Catarrhoxone, which goes instantly to the source and the trouble. Catarrhoxone is successful, because it penetrates where liquid medicines can't go. The balsamic vapor of Catarrhoxone drives out the germs, soothes the irritation, relieves the cough, makes Catarrh troubles disappear quickly. For bad throat, coughs, bronchitis, Catarrhoxone is a wonder. Two months treatment one dollar. Small size 50c. Sold everywhere or The Catarrhoxone Co., Montreal.

What Tenby Bay Lady Says About Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mrs. N. Espeland Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills to all Sufferers.

Tenby Bay, Ont.—(Special).—"I have been troubled with my kidneys for years, but since I started taking Dodd's Kidney Pills my health has greatly improved. I only have to take them occasionally now." This statement is made by Mrs. Espeland, well-known and respected resident here.

The reason Dodd's Kidney Pills have come to occupy such a prominent place in the family medicine chest is that so many of the ordinary every day ills come from sick kidneys. Rheumatism, urinary troubles, diabetes, backache and heart disease can all be traced directly or indirectly to sick kidneys.

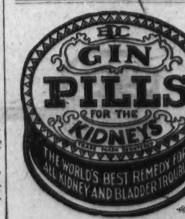

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the best remedy for sick kidneys.

Is Too Late Now To Disclaim Responsibility In European Situation

Montreal.—Uttering a grave warning of the almost inevitable consequences should the present French tactics in the Ruhr Valley fail, Rt. Hon. George E. Foster, in an address here, reiterated his impressions of political and economic European conditions as they appear in the light of the existing crisis.

"It is too late now for Canada to disclaim any interest or responsibility towards Europe," he said. "We attained the first object for which we entered the war, the overthrow of a military autocracy, but the second great task, the adjustment of peace, is by no means accomplished. It is the world's mess and the world must see it is cleaned up. So far as criticisms of the peace conference are concerned let us get the attitude out of our mind that it was the ineptitude of the peace conference which led to the present difficulties. These difficulties had their roots back in years, decades, even centuries, prior to 1914."

In speaking of the Fascist movement in Italy, Sir George said: "I think it is one of the most singular developments the world has ever seen. It may be out all right, but what a comment it is on all the careful work of centuries in building up a constitution. No one knows what that example may lead to in other countries of Europe."

Daring Bank Robbery

Bank of Nova Scotia at Moose Jaw Robbed in Broad Daylight

Moose Jaw.—The most daring daylight robbery in the history of this city took place at noon on Wednesday last, when two men armed with drawn revolvers, held up the teller of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Fairford Street, bound him hand and foot and gagged him, afterwards locking him in the vault and taking approximately $5,000 which was in the teller's cage. The men made a clean getaway. The alarm was raised within ten minutes of the robbery.

Report of Parks Board.
Following is the report of the Parks Board of money received and spent on Fair ground Park and the Eighty-acre Park:

Receipts—
58 trees sold to residents,
$12.65.
4360 pounds hay sold at $25
a ton $54.50.
Grant from the Town Council $175.
Total $242.15.
Expenditures—
Making hay and delivering,
$23.70.
Fire fighting on 80 acres,
$5.95.
Work on Fairground Park,
$17.70.
Wire and staples for Eighty acres $32.60.
Work on road and bridge,
$44.12.
Timothy seed for 80 acres,
$1.30.
Clearing land and general improvement on eighty acres, $87.25.
Total expenditure, $212.62

The Board has opened a road which is a continuation of Main street to the southwest corner of the Town's 80 acres and continued the same on the west line of same to the creek, where a bridge was built over the same.
Also 3½ acres of land were grubbed, and the stumps, roots, etc. burnt, and 2½ acres were put under cultivation and seeded down with timothy.

The cultivated land is in two parcels—one on the hill near the southwest corner; and the other north of the creek. Before this year, there was no way of approach to this land.
As this was a very dry season our receipts do not compare as favorable as previous years, but the receipts from trees from the nursery in the Park were greater this year than any previous year, and there are still some 300 trees there.

The Board appreciates the interest and care that town residents have shown in purchasing and taking care of the trees, and each year shows that more interest is taken in tree planting and shrubbery and making the town look beautiful.

An Absolute Teetotaler

Ostrich Expert Says Birds Do Not Drink At All

The ostrich is one of the most peculiar birds in the world. He has an interior economy which is full of surprises. His digestion is a proverb, but strictly speaking he does not digest the keys, bits of metal, and other oddments he swallows.

These he stores up in a powerful grinding mill of muscle, and uses them to reduce hard corn into coarse powder. What is, curious about the ostrich is the fact that he out-Pussyfoots Pussyfoot Johnson by never drinking at all.

This was not realized at the London Zoo until an ostrich expert in the service of the South African Government paid a visit to Regent's Park and saw him.

He explained that he never pampers his birds by giving them anything to drink, and the water supply of the London birds was promptly cut off. That was three years ago, and the birds have not started to grumble yet.

HAD BAD PAINS IN HER HEART

Nerves Were Very Bad

Mrs. John Case, R. R. No. 4, St. Catharines, Ont., writes:—"I wish to say that I have been bothered very much with my heart and nerves. I doctored with two different doctors, but did not find much relief. I would have such bad pains in my heart, at times, I would be almost afraid to move or breathe, and at night I could not sleep. If the pains in my heart were gone, my nerves would be so bad I could not lie still and would only get a little sleep by being tired out. My stomach was also very bad, and I could eat but very little, and then only certain things or I would have so much distress which always made by heart worse."

I had been suffering for nearly two years until one day I was talking to our druggist about the way I felt. He advised me to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a fair trial. I have now taken five boxes and am feeling so much better. I am able to do my own work, and can eat anything I wish. I cannot praise "Pimples broke out on the back of my head and neck. At first the pimples were small and then ran into each other and formed sore eruptions about the size of a two-cent piece. The skin was so sore and red and itched, it was a great deal, causing me to scratch."

"I had the trouble about six months before I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after using three cakes of Soap and three boxes of Ointment, I was healed." (Signed) J. A. Macdonald, Gifford, Quebec.

Things Might Be Worse

Yes, Times Might Easily Be a Little Bit Worse

Yesterday the news columns carried the story of three farmers who have returned to Saskatchewan after looking over the land offered them in Mexico, convinced that that province is the place for them. The point of the story is that there are worse places in which to live than this same province of Saskatchewan. One would be foolish to deny that things have not been going as swimmingly in many ways during the last few years as might be desired; but that is not grist for the mills of the pessimist. Where, outside of Saskatchewan, are things going any better?—Regina Leader.

WINTER HARD ON BABY

The winter season is a hard one on the baby. He is snug or less confined to study, badly ventilated rooms. It is so often thought that the mother does not get him out in the fresh air as often as she should. He catches colds, which rack his little system; his stomach and bowels get out of order and he becomes peevish and cross. To guard against this the mother should keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house. They regulate the stomach and bowels and break up colds. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

In Petrograd, Russia, the inhabitants numbered 2,200,000, according to the census of 1917. Three years later there were only 705,000, including refugees and homeless. This is one result of Bolshevik rule.

How Fast Do Your Bones Move?

No matter in what latitude it may be used, potency is never impaired. It is put up in most portable shapes in bottles and can be carried without fear of breakage.

BENEFITS LAST SAYS NICOLSON

Declares Tanlac Completely Overcame Run Down Condition 2 Years Ago —Felt Fine—Ever Since

Still another who vouches for the fact "Tanalac makes you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better," is Sam Nicolson, 121 11th Ave., East, Calgary, Alberta, a well-known employee of the Robt. Hood Flour Mills. "When I began taking Tanlac," he continued, "I wasn't exactly sick, but I had no appetite and felt tired and worn out all the time. My strength and energy had about all left me, and I was so run down that I never felt like work."

"What I needed was an all round building up and Tanlac did that very thing. My appetite picked up at once and I soon got to where I could eat better, sleep better, feel better and work better. Tanlac just seemed to fill me with new life and energy and while that was some three years ago I am still in good shape. No one in need of something to build them up can go wrong by taking Tanlac."

Tanalac's for sale by all good druggists. Over 35-million bottles sold.

Less Crime in Britain

Absence of Crime is Attributed to Decrease in Drink

"England accomplished an unprecedented feat of self-restraint after the signing of the armistice. Unlike the after period of all former wars, there has not been a crime wave and I ascribe it chiefly to the decline of the drink habit, for today the public house is a far less important factor in the life of the people than it ever was before." This was the opinion expressed by Sir Basil Thomson, former Chief of Scotland Yard, in an address given before a Toronto audience.

What is good health worth to you?

HEALTH is priceless. You wouldn't knowingly part with it for anything in the world.

Why then do you risk it needlessly for the sake of a few cups of tea or coffee?

Tea and coffee contain Caffeine, a drug which often interferes with nerves and digestion.

There's an easy, pleasant way to avoid this menace to health, without any sacrifice to comfort or satisfaction. Drink Instant Postum instead of tea or coffee.

Instant Postum is a pure, wholesome and delicious beverage made from choice wheat. It is most convenient and economical, too. Just a level teaspoonful to each cup, add boiling water and stir thoroughly. Then add cream and sugar to taste.
